

“Your travel agent on life’s journey”

Basil Eddy (MSc)

Certified NLP Master Practitioner
Certified NLP Coach
Member of the Coach and Mentors of SA (CoMenSA)

Contact details:

Gauteng, Trewinnard consulting
+27 (0)72 945 6136
eddyclan@mweb.co.za

Specialities

- Personal life coach
- Personal and career transformations
- Personal business coaching
- Mentoring and coaching in the scientific environment
- Personal breakthrough sessions

Biography

Basil Eddy is married and has four children and five grandchildren. He has actively participated in community organisations for more than twenty years. He has spent forty years in a high tech science and engineering environment in positions ranging from specialist group leader, to head of corporate safety attached to executive management. He is an accomplished speaker and has spoken both nationally and internationally. When he retired in 2005 he established his own business Trewinnard consulting doing management system consulting and auditing while growing his coaching practice.

“In 1995 I discovered NLP and realised it was the key to personal growth. In 2005 I threw off the shackles of a regular job to pursue my dream of my own business doing what I have come to love.... Exploring the exciting world of NLP and sharing that excitement with others as I help them to discover new fields within themselves they did not know even existed. I had already tasted the joy of awakening students as I mentored and coached them when they joined me in my department after completing their formal scientific studies. NLP coaching has now added a new dimension as I help people overcome obstacles in achieving their goals in their private and working lives. “

“Coaching is like traveling in unknown territory. When you set out you are not sure what you will experience. As you round each bend of the road of life new vistas and opportunities reveal themselves. Let me be your travel agent on your life’s journey”

To add yourself to the list .